"Try something new. This is the time that you have to be flexible, versatile and open to the possibilities of exploring new horizons. Be willing to experiment and step into the unknown. Try something new with your life! Don't allow yourself to be a sitting duck or a volunteer victim...totally at the mercy of another person's decisions.

Times have changed. You must have your own back and create your own recovery plan. Each year determine to master a new skill. What did you learn today that you did not know yesterday? You have talents, abilities and gifts in you that you haven't even reached for yet. Don't let them waste away!! It's time to be about the business of developing them. You deserve!!"

Learning Lessons

"I try to get the point across that if only one person could open their hearts and their arms to just one depressed person they could make a big difference in this world. Some people are too blind and ignorant to support others through mental or heart breaking issues. Giving is better than receiving, especially when your kindness could change a person's outlook on life - even if it is for only a short time until the next good influence comes along. A favorite saying of mine, 'If at first you don't succeed, try again.' I'm sure we have all heard it, fall off the horse get back on and ride it. Life is about learning from our mistakes and trying again."

There Is One Very
Straight Rule For Success
In Life That We Need To Learn.

Just try 1 More Time In Different way, Before
Getting Success.
