MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

The first quarter of the financial year 2016 – 2017 has witnessed all round growth in every vertical of SISA's business entities. This would never have been possible without the tireless efforts of my two Lieutenants, our MD Sameer Sharma and CEO Rajesh Sharma. Thank you both for leading your teams and setting leadership examples which has brought laurels to our company.

I have always believed SISA is my extended family and all Sisatarians are my loving family members. I take pride in their successes and stand by them in their hour of crisis. The bond evolves from the commitment, dedication and unrelenting tenacity to perform by my dedicated team, which has always been my forte in the Armed Forces and civil life.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

I, as head of the SISA family, thank each one of you for the great effort you have put in.

Since we are in the service industry, the daily challenges are enormous. There is no second mantra to survive and excel but to constantly improve, improvise, reinvent service quality. We must create advocates among our clients, who will in fact speak for us in the business community and pave the path for geometric progression of our business volume. But to achieve that, we need to create zero tolerance in our service quality. A customer is never content with 'good service'; the industry demands a dynamically improved order of things. So my dear friends, there is no room for complacency.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

In order for us to remain in business and grow, you must keep inculcating new skill sets among our front line staff, so that we become synonymous with 'service excellence'.

Take pride in your work, take pride in being part of the SISA family and never forget to smile. God bless you and your families.

Maj. Sushil Kumar Sharma (Retd)
Chairman

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Readers,

It has been the constant endeavor of our Respected Chairman, to rise above the rest in everything that we do at SISA. It is this dynamism, which has been our guiding light, in transforming our brand into a class of its own. 'SISA TIMES' will showcase this transformation in each of its quarterly editions.

SISA is not a company but a family, where each one is assigned a specific task to perform. Our Chairman, Managing Director, CEO and Board of Directors routinely monitor each one of us. It is now for us to live up to their desired standards and deliver with zeal and excellence. There is no better way to exceed expectations but to work as a team.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

We invite you to showcase your successes, be it at work or within your own family. Share the good work done by our guards (our frontline staff) with their photographs and a brief write-up. Celebrate your association with your clients by projecting them as your partners in business. Let us all contribute to encompassing a wider and bigger SISA family.

My heartfelt thanks to my Co-Editor Seema Joshi, Shuddhashil Pal and all those who contributed, without whom rolling out SISA Times would be very difficult. HUM HAI SISA and that's the way we will always be!!!

Keep smiling and enjoy working.
