SISA TIMES VOL - III

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

Major S. K. Sharma (Retd)
Chairman

We are already in the third quarter of 2019 and yet it seems, as though it was only yesterday that we began our journey into the corporate domain. It is your unstinted support and dedication that has been instrumental in making SISA a household name in the security industry today.

Notwithstanding the above, I must confess that I am not satisfied with the billing figures over the past two quarters. If we have to achieve our goal and targets of 2020, we need to be much more aggressive and focused. It is not important how many hours you put in per week, what is more important is to ensure that your work is adding value to our system. Your management will be deemed redundant if your work and efforts are counterproductive.

We have sailed together many years, in sun, rain and storm, and each time we have endured the worst and come out better than before. It is with this conviction that I call upon you constantly upgrade yourselves so that you fall inline with our ever evolving systems upgrade.

October is the month of celebrations. I and my family take this opportunity, to extend our best wishes on Diwali to you and your families. Be safe, keep others safe and enjoy the festival of lights in the right spirit.

HAPPY DIWALI!!!

Maj. Sushil Kumar Sharma (Retd)

Chairman

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

It has been five years that I have served as Editor of SISA Times and I must conclude that every edition has always special to me. I take this opportunity to extend my gratitude to all my ex and present team members for making every edition of SISA Times vibrantly interesting and informative.

In a few days from now you and your families will be celebrating Diwali and I, on behalf of my team wish you a Happy and Safe Diwali. Share your happiness with those, whose very existence is a daily challenge. Small children who have neither clothes nor food need your love and support. The happiness you derive from giving and sharing is much more than what the best fireworks can do.

Please remember that we all have a commitment to fulfill in 2020. Our management has preset a goal which we must achieve because there is no bigger joy than telling yourself, I HAVE DONE IT!!!

Keep smiling and help the impoverished put a smile back on their faces this Diwali.

God bless you all.

Best Regards,

Mr. Chandan Banerjee

Skilled Hunter

Once before a time there was a forest. All kinds of animals lived there. The lion named Shera was counted among the most skilled and ferocious predators of the forest. With his team he did not know how many buffaloes, deer and other animals were hunted.

Gradually he began to boast of his ability. One day he told his colleagues... "From now on, whatever will be hunted, I will eat it first... only then one of you will touch it." Hearing such things from Shera's mouth, everyone was astonished... Then an elderly lion asked, "Hey... what has happened to you all of a sudden... Why are you talking like this ..?", Shera said, "I am not talking like this ... I am the biggest contributor to all the victims ... I am able to hunt so much on the strength of my strength; Therefore, the first right on the hunt is mine...".

The next day, a meeting was called. Experienced lions explained to Shera, "Look, Shera, we believe that you are a skilled hunter, but it is also true that the rest of the people also contribute to the hunt according to their own ability, so we cannot agree that hunting But the first right is yours... We all hunt together and we have to eat it together... Shera did not like this, he said in his own boast, "Never mind, from today I will hunt alone ... and you all together to hunt and saying this, Shera got up from the assembly and left.

After some time, when Shera got hungry, she thought of hunting, she roared towards a herd of buffaloes, but what did the buffalo who shuddered to see her tremble at her arrival today? Having chased him away. Shera thought, "Never mind, I hunt deer, and he moved towards the deer, but how far he alone could surround these agile deer, his deer did not even come."

ARTICLE BY SUPPORT TEAM

Now Shera realized that despite having so much strength, she could not hunt a single person without getting the support of the party. He began to regret it, now that he understood the importance of teamwork, he rushed to the other lions disappointed and apologized for his behavior and once again the forest trembled with his roar.

Moral of Story

Friends, whether you are in sports, working in the corporate world, or doing a business; it is very important to understand the importance of team work. Every member of the team is important and plays a small role in achieving any goal. Naturally, not all fingers are equal, so in a team too, a member has more or less role. But if those who contribute big think that whatever is there is due to them, then it will be wrong. Therefore instead of boasting of any kind, we should work as a team player, giving importance to all.

Another important message in this story is to apologize when you realize a mistake. When Shera realized her mistake, he apologized and once again his credibility returned. If you ever make any mistake then do not make it an Ego problem and apologize and bring life back on track.
