MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

Major S. K. Sharma (Retd)
Chairman

As the sun set for the last time in the western horizon for the year 2019, I looked back to reminisce how my company had fared in the most demanding conditions our industry has been through. Honestly, I think we did splendidly well with the support of my dedicated team of officers in every corner of the country.

There has been major reshuffle at the top level of my crack team and I am happy to say they delivered far beyond my expectations. I am now confident that SISA will dominate the security services industry in 2020, fulfilling a long cherished dream.

I had carefully drawn a road map for achieving a dream target in terms of business growth for 2020. I hereby announce on this first day of January, two thousand twenty, that SISA is poised to surpass my own expectations in business accumulation, service quality and delivery. It is therefore upon my brave soldiers to rise to the occasion and ensure that our brand value gets the diamond edge and sustains the same for many years to come.

I consider all SISATARIANS as the company's biggest assets. I draw strength from your astute sincerity, dedication and above all loyalty towards my company. Only your hard work can ensure that the year 2020 will be written in golden letters in the history of SISA. So rise and give your best.

My family joins me in wishing each one of you a momentous NEW YEAR. God bless you all.

Maj. Sushil Kumar Sharma (Retd)

Chairman

SISA Times Vol - IV

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

SISA Times is set to roll out yet another edition of its in-house magazine on the verge of New Year. We are thankful to all Sistarians, who have worked very hard to ensure that SISA remains in the top bracket of the security services industry in India.

I have plans to expand the editorial board in 2020 and look forward to engaging enthusiastic employees to volunteer as team members. It is our intent to make SISA Times a robust mouth piece of our company, by introducing articles on latest developments in the security industry globally.

We wish you and your families a Very Happy 2020 and hope the New Year infuses new vigour into your work and lives.

Mr. Chandan Banerjee

BURDEN OF DREAMS

Adulting has taught us one thing that while growing up we always dreamt of becoming something in our life. Reaching at particular goal was our aim. Now you will say this is pretty normal but my friend dreaming with the timeline on for everything is not normal. You might not be able to get this point. You know while we were in higher secondary class some of us have always thought once about our future lives or some of them might have thought about it multiple times. Future plans starts from completing education at the correct age, after this dream to get a well settled job and also marrying to his/her would be partner at the correct age. Moreover the procrastination never stops here it keep continuing ahead with the perfect future plans.

Dreaming is a process but the time liner which is on with it is procrastination. Why do we procrastinate? We procrastinate because we are some lazy people who do not want to act but get the result before reality hits the ground. Also we love to explore different things but that too with minimal risk, hence no risk can be in only dreams.

Why the time liner is on? The reason being for the tik-tok time liner is- from childhood we were told that ones you grow up you need to get into a good college, complete study and get a well settled job and at the certain age parents will get you marry once the age arrives. With our professional life we are always in hurry to achieve everything as soon as possible just because we think we are left with less time. A single thing keeps running in our mind what if at the age of 40 our salary is just half of our age?, what if we end up working at the same designation for our whole life? And what if we never get what we deserve. That's why we are always in hurry to turn these dreams into reality, Because we want to enjoy the result for long time. But during the process we end up stressing ourselves too much and this stress lead to working inefficiently. Inefficient work can never bring satisfaction. Thus now my question is if somehow you reach your goals before time, still will you end your procrastination over here. Will you feel satisfied, accomplish or done with goals. No!!! Right.

Now your question would be what I should do:

1. Should I keep going with the flow?
2. Should I still follow what I was doing early- follow the actual plan and reach their early?
3. Or else follow the same plan but reach there a little late?

SISA Times Vol - IV

ARTICLE BY OPERATIONS TEAM

There is risk in involved all the three options –

1. In first we do not know when we will reach our goal a little late or a little early.
2. In second we would not know whether we will be satisfied with our accomplishments or not?
3. And in third reaching late can bring dissatisfaction.

Procrastination never ends it stays with us till the time we are free and as per human tendency we stress too much in the process to deal with our burden of dreams we end up working less for the dream and more on procrastination which in turn proves it correct “dreams are burden to us”. Hence, why to stress and hamper our work. Just look at the first question- Should I keep going with the flow? Yes you should because no one knows end result you have a dream but keep working towards the dream do not end up dreaming more about after result of achieving it. Reaching late is much more beautiful as it will lead you to witness the journey which has ups and down but have We are in situation where we are in mid of everything - half of being satisfied, half of dream achiever, half of enthusiastic, half of energetic, half of being happy. Go with the follow and enjoy the journey of your process. Cribbing and inefficiency will lead you nowhere but with stress. We will reach somewhere where life will feel accomplished but it's just about the time for which we have to be patient enough to follow.

Do not let your dreams be burden on you; let it be dreams with the wings which will take you higher. Do not procrastinate work hard so that you do not have time to procrastinate.

Best Regards,

Ms. Manali Gurnani
